In collaboration with Mega Baby Expo

Popular expo brand in Singapore and Malaysia, nottoobig, will help you handle the labyrinth that is parenthood. What classes to enrol them in? What healthy snacks to make for them? What educational toys to buy for them? It all gets a bit too confusing sometimes!

Find your answers at this year's Mega Baby Expo, where you can expect to uncover helpful information and new baby brands at the best quality and price. The expo will be held from October 31 to November 3 at Kowloon Bay International Trade and Exhibition Centre, featuring more than 120 booths consisting of Mothercare and numerous international brands within the baby and children industry. Expect attractive promotions and a series of activities so you can discover the latest innovative products in a fun and delightful way.

An exciting addition to this year's expo is having LEGO® DUPLO® as the themed partner – for the first time ever in a baby expo in Hong Kong!

The LEGO® DUPLO® brand focuses on simplicity so both you and your little one will have endless fun recreating scenes, dreaming up stories through play, and to create and connect. The uniquely shaped building bricks are specially designed for little hands to support each toddler's developmental milestones, one brick at a time. Through imaginative play, preschoolers are able to develop their fine motor skills and hand-eye coordination.

To help you get to the expo venue at ease, the exhibition offers free shuttle bus services going back and forth from KITEC and Kowloon Bay MTR station.
